Find Out: Is Your Discipline Code Current?

The Education Code outlines a process for discipline code development which includes the sign off by a teacher representative. Has your site kept the discipline code current?

By December 1987 each school was required to adopt rules and procedures on school discipline applicable to the school. (Ed Code § 35291)

The code must be revised at least every four years.

In developing the rules and procedures each school must solicit the participation by one representative selected by each of the following groups: parents, teachers, school administrators, school security, and students (in secondary settings).

The final version of the rules and procedures must be signed off by the principal or his designee and a representative selected by classroom teachers employed at the school.
